YOU know it's nearly Christmas when you see the Coca-Cola Truck on your television screens.

But shoppers in Oxford on Monday got the exciting opportunity to see the truck for real.

Scores of people flocked to see the lorry on Broad Street to have their photo taken with the truck, as it continues on its UK tour until December 23, just two days before Christmas.

The iconic vehicles, now synonymous with the countdown to the Christmas holidays, were first seen on TV screens back in 1995.

An advert featuring three of the 18-wheel vehicles, each covered in more than 30,000 bulbs to create the visual effect of a never-ending fleet of trucks, was the start of the craze.

SURGE IN THEFTS PROMPTS ACTION

POLICE in Oxford have launched three separate operations for the Christmas period, with the aim of reducing the number of thefts and burglaries across the city.

Operation Blitzen is being run by police to deal with shoplifting incidents in the weeks leading up to Christmas, while Operation Big Dipper is aiming to tackle thefts taking place at licensed premises.

By Adam Flinn

It follows a 19 per cent increase in thefts from a person charges between April 1 and December 9 compared to the same period last year, while reported shoplifting incidents rose by 10 per cent.

At the same time, Operation Bells is also in force to deal with burglaries across the city, although there has already been a 20.8 per cent drop in incidents over the same time period.

Supt Christian Bunt, local policing area commander for Oxford, said: "Although no analysis has been done, the increase in thefts could be linked to the austerity measures.

"As times get harder, we see an increase in these types of crimes, so in response we have launched these operations.

"Our big message is to look after your property, as three quarters of thefts are likely avoidable. There is a trend of leaving bags on a table and phones are then stolen.

"There are opportunists out there, so make sure you are looking after your property."

Sergeant Joanne Hutchings added: "Footfall is higher in the city centre around Christmas, and people can get easily distracted while shopping or at Christmas parties.

"There has been a lot of planning, and while the operations started in late November, they were being planned in June and July.

"We have done lots of work around licensed premises to help them get the crime prevention message across, and help staff identify those who are putting their property at risk."

As part of the operations, police officers, plain clothes officers and PCSOs will be patrolling the city centre and other areas of Oxford.

Anyone who witnesses a crime is asked to contact 101.

Know your limits this Christmas...

CELEBRATIONS are common at this time of year but county council chiefs are reminding festive revellers to know their limits during the Christmas and New Year period.

A campaign targeting everybody who will be celebrating at parties across Oxfordshire began last week with the intention of increasing people's knowledge and understanding of alcohol.

The county council's public health team also want to raise the understanding of drinking more than the government's recommended daily guidelines where men should not regularly exceed 3-4 units a day and 2-3 units for women.

However, there is no safe level of drinking and staying within the guidelines can make a positive difference to people's health.

Cllr Hilary Hibbert Biles, the council's lead member for public health, said: "December can be a really busy month with Christmas parties, drinks and meals every weekend and sometimes throughout the week as well.

"It's very easy to find your diary full of occasions where the drink will be flowing which means keeping within the guideline number of units can be difficult.

"Everyone wants to have a good time enjoying all the Christmas season has to offer and we aren't in the business of telling people they can't have fun.

"There are lots of ways to keep the alcohol in check and plenty of places to find out all the facts about drink so that you can enjoy yourself without putting yourself at risk."

To coincide with the campaign the county council have issued some tips to help avoid accidental binge drinking.

It is recommended to download a unit calculator app to help you stick to the guidelines while eating carbohydrates or protein will prevent alcohol from going to your head too quickly.

Other bits of advice include drinking once you are out rather than at home, having a break between beverages and cutting down by, for example, choosing a lower-strength lager.

Oxford skaters hoping for a fairy tale show!

• Skaters performing Oliver! at last year's event

FAIRY Tales on Ice is back this year with what promises to be the best show yet.

Taking place this Saturday and Sunday at Oxford Ice Rink, international, national and local skating championships will put on performances to get everybody in the mood for Christmas.

The show is produced by Oxford Ice Rink and local skate coaches Jane de Lange, Sue Hands and Alison Morrell.

John Harris, general manager of the Rink, said: "This year's show should be the best ever.

"In addition to some great international quality skaters we have a hundred of our own skaters and even Marvin the Penguin taking part.

"The coaches, Ice Rink team, skaters and families have put a lot of work into making this show one of the premier Christmas events in the city and I would encourage everyone to come to the show and get in the Christmas spirit."

Councillor Mike Rowley, board member for Leisure Services, added: "This should be a great event with some of Britain's biggest ice skating stars. It is an ideal way to get into the Christmas holiday mood."

Tickets are on sale now from Oxford Ice Rink and cost £9.50 for adults and £7.50 for under 16s.

Performances are held twice a day at 3pm and 6pm.

Student death investigated

POLICE are continuing to investigate the death of a 20-year-old student, who was found dead in a tent at Port Meadow on Sunday afternoon.

The body of Andrew Kirkman, who had been studying physics and philosophy at Balliol College, was discovered by a passer-by at 12.25pm in the tent, which presented a strong odour of chemicals.

At present the death is being treated as unexplained, but police are saying there are no suspicious circumstances.

Supt Steve Hockin said: "Early indications are that the chemical involved in the death of the man is hydrogen sulphide."

The area was cordoned off overnight while further investigations were made, with Port Meadow being completely reopened on Monday.

Supt Christian Bunt said: "These types of incidents are fairly uncommon and tricky to deal with. I can't remember a similar incident in the past, certainly not during my tenure over the last 12 months."

Police hunt laser pen offenders

TWO teenage boys shone a laser pen into the faces of cyclists, pedestrians and bus drivers in Queen Street on December 2.

A 17-year-old boy from Oxford has since been arrested in connection to the incident which happened between 2.30pm and 2.45pm.

He has since been bailed until January 14.

PC Ben Simmons who is investigating the incident said: "We are very keen to hear from anyone who was in this area last Monday afternoon.

"It was a busy time as the streets were full of Christmas shoppers and if any of the victims had been temporarily blinded by the pens, especially the bus drivers, there could have been a terrible accident.

"We would urge anyone who was in Queen Street at that time and saw what happened or who was actually a target for the laser pen to please get in touch as soon as possible."

If you have any information contact PC Simmons via the Thames Valley Police Enquiry Centre on 101.

Alternatively you can contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Plans for 2,500 homes on airfield are granted

PLANS have finally been granted to build 2,500 homes on Grove airfield.

The development, over 10 years in planning, will also include a shopping centre, two primary schools and a secondary school.

The decisions was made at a Vale of White Horse District Council (VWHDC) planning committee meeting last week.

Cllr Roger Cox, VWHDC cabinet member for planning development, said: "This project has been on the drawing board for a decade and forms a major part of the Council's five-year housing land supply calculations.

By James Booker

jamesb@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"Thanks to fresh initiatives in the last two years and the active co-operation of all parties, we have progressed to granting outline permission and I am very pleased."

The homes will be built in three phases, the first of 500, followed by two more phases of 1,000 each. The expected delivery rate is approximately 250 homes a year.

The plans are part of a project to bring 5,500 new homes to the Wantage and Grove area.

Cllr Matthew Barber, leader of the Vale, said: "Grove airfield is an important step towards providing a five year land supply, and once the next planning stages have been completed we look forward to seeing houses being built, which will make a real difference to our housing supply.

"It's been a long time coming, but it was vitally important to make sure that a development on this scale is done properly."

"People in Grove and Wantage can rest assured we have been working very hard to make sure their concerns have been taken into account in this process."

Cllr Zoe Patrick, Oxfordshire County Council's ward member for Wantage and Grove, said it was 'essential' to get the proper infrastructure in place along with the housing.

"This will be a huge challenge for the whole area as we struggle to cope with the sheer amount of housing scheduled for the site.

"Timely delivery of the essential infrastructure is absolutely essential to make it work."

"Grove deserves to have the best possible facilities to ensure that the old and new communities bind together."

"The roads access problems have to be sorted out right at the start to ensure that residents can easily get on and off the site."

"It is vitally important that all the legal agreements to secure the £49million package is taken on board and managed effectively."

Wantage town Mayor Fiona Roper echoed Cllr Patrick sentiments about infrastructure, and added she was 'pleased' the development had finally been approved.

Some concern has been expressed about the decision, and its knock-on effects.

Julie Mabblerley, of Wantage and Grove Campaign Group, has written to Cllr Barber expressing concerns about young people wishing to buy, congestion of the link roads, and lack of leisure facilities to accommodate the increase in the area's population.

Ms Mabblerley also raised the issue of potential lack of school places during the transition period of people moving to the area and the school buildings being finalised.

"You are our elected representatives and we urge you to represent us and ensure we are not swamped with houses without the investment in infrastructure to put in place what is needed, when needed and not 3-5 years later," she added.

Have you seen this woman?

• Do you know her?

THAMES Valley Police would like to speak to a woman in connection to a theft from a shop in Witney.

At 1.15pm on November 1, three women and three children entered Cotswold Kids store on the Market Square and spent around 15 minutes looking around the shop.

During this time the children were very loud and distracting to the staff member while several items of children's clothing were stolen.

A silver Vauxhall Insignia was seen around the area at the time of the incident.

If you have any information contact PC Richard Sanders on 101 or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Police appeal after girl disappears from Iffley home

• Jayden Parkinson

POLICE are appealing for help following the disappearance of a 17-year-old Oxford girl, who went missing from the city on December 3.

Jayden Parkinson was last seen leaving 1 Foot Forward in Iffley Road during the afternoon, but didn't return home that evening as planned.

It is understood she could be in the Oxford or Reading area.

She is described as white, of slim build with shoulder length dark brown hair and brown eyes.

Inspector Chris Simpson, who is leading the search, said: "We are becoming increasingly concerned for Jayden's welfare as she has little access to money and she has not been in phone contact, which is out of character for her."

"She could be in Oxford or Reading areas with friends, and if this is the case, we would urge her or them to get in contact."

"Jayden is not in any trouble but we need to get in touch with her to ensure she is safe and well."

Anyone with information as to Jayden's whereabouts is asked to contact Inspector Simpson on 101.

Oxfordshire pays its respects to freedom fighter Mandela

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

TRIBUTES have been pouring in from across the city for former South African president Nelson Mandela.

Mr Mandela, who died last Thursday at the age of 95, visited the city on two occasions and, as he was across the world, thought of dearly by the people of Oxford.

His death was announced on South African national TV by President Jacob Zuma, who said Mr Mandela was at peace.

The Bishop of Oxford, the Rt Revd John Pritchard, led the tributes, saying "the world has lost one of its noblest figures".

"His courage, dignity and unswerving loyalty to truth made his long walk to freedom an inspiration for untold millions of people, especially those who continue to live under tyranny," Revd Pritchard continued.

"His years of imprisonment only strengthened his moral and spiritual resources.

"May he rest in peace, and rise in glory."

Mr Mandela, also known by Madiba, his tribal name, visited the Oxford Centre for Islamic Studies in 1997 and Oxford University's Saïd Business School in 2002. He received an honorary degree from Oxford University and was given the freedom of the city in 1997.

Oxford University's vice-chancellor Professor Andrew Hamilton, said: "Nelson Mandela was an inspiration wherever he went and we remember with affection and gratitude his association with this university."

"We were honoured to welcome him to Oxford to open the lecture theatre at the Saïd Business School that bears his name, and continue to take pride in the work of the Mandela Rhodes Scholarships programme for African students. Like people all over the world we mourn the passing of an extraordinary man, whose life and example has the power to teach us all."

Nicola Blackwood, MP for Oxford West and Abingdon who was born in South Africa, said: "The fact that we are all struggling to put into words the transformational impact of Mandela's life is a fitting tribute.

"He defied the rules: met injustice with forgiveness, conflict with reconciliation and division with unifying leadership."

"It is up to all of us now to honour his life's work by continuing to fight oppression and human rights abuses wherever we find them."

Prime Minister and Witney MP David Cameron also paid tribute to Mr Mandela saying "a great light has gone out in the world".

- 2013 After suffering repeated infections he died at his home on December 5

He added: "Nelson Mandela was a towering figure in our time; a legend in life and now in death - a true global hero."

"Across the country he loved, they will be mourning a man who was the embodiment of grace. Meeting him was one of the great honours of my life."

Dr Hojjat Ramzy, representative of the Muslim Community of Oxford, said: "He was a man who put aside his own hardships and sacrificed every ounce of his energy to ensure a better world for his people, the people of South Africa and the people of the world."

"He was a teacher, who taught the world the true meaning of tolerance and brotherhood, the same message that runs deep in the Holy Qur'an and Muslim veins. He may have passed, but his legacy remains forever."

An official memorial service was held in Johannesburg on Tuesday while Mr Mandela's state funeral will be held in the village of Qunu this Sunday.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Josh Florey feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and Josh is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated." So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Josh a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Sham wedding busted by immigration officers

A MAN faces removal from the UK after he was arrested following a suspected sham wedding, which was taking place at Oxford Register Office last Thursday.

Home Office Immigration Enforcement officers raided the wedding at 12.30pm, after acting on information that the relationship may not be genuine.

They arrested a 23-year-old Pakistani man who was found to have been in the country illegally having overstayed his visa, and has been detained.

The bride, a 24-year-old Portuguese woman, was questioned by officers but later released.

Paul Smith, head of the Thames Valley and Surrey Home Office Immigration Enforcement team, was pleased with the outcome.

He said: "This is another example of the successful work we are doing to combat sham weddings and civil partnerships in Oxfordshire."

"We work closely with registrars across the region to prevent people from abusing the marriage system, in a bid to get round our immigration laws. "Where we receive information that a wedding may be suspicious, we will investigate and, if necessary, intervene and arrest those involved."

"I would urge anyone thinking of entering a sham marriage to think again as there is every chance that you will be detained and removed from the country."

The Home Office state that a sham marriage or civil partnership typically occurs when a non-European national marries someone from the European Economic Area.

It takes place as a means of attempting to gain long-term residency and the right to work and claim benefits in the UK.

Arrests are carried out by trained immigration officers who carry out the operations at businesses and private addresses, acting on protected intelligence.

Woman racially attacked while waiting for a taxi in Oxford

A 24-YEAR-OLD woman became the victim of a racially aggravated assault in Oxford while she was waiting for a taxi.

The offender, who is white, aged between 20 and 25-years-old, of large build, with blonde dark hair, was restrained by her friends, and a man who was in the area at the time.

The offender's friends

Reindeer join in the fun at Witney shop

A WITNEY shop was celebrating the run-up to Christmas last Thursday, as live reindeer entertained staff and children for the afternoon.

Cargo Witney, based in the Woolgate Centre, welcomed the reindeer to a pen outside the store, where youngsters could have their photograph taken with them.

The reindeer were at Cargo from 1pm to 5pm, and were introduced to people throughout the day.

Oxford professor 'plans reburial of Richard III'

AN ACADEMIC from Oxford University has put together an authentic order of service for the planned reburial of Richard III.

Dr Alexandra Buckle, of St Anne's and St Hilda's colleges, was able to do this after finding the only known document explaining how a medieval reburial would have been carried out.

She has even recreated what she believes to be the correct music for the event.

The manuscript, which is a late 17th century copy of a 15th century document, was found in the British Library and Dr Buckle has since translated it into English from Latin.

She discovered the document during her research into Richard Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick, for her doctorate.

Dr Buckle describes the service as 'elaborate' while it contains two new prayers known only to survive in the document.

She said: "The new prayers are an exciting find as they draw on the famous 'dry bones' passage from the bible and the transferral of Joseph's bones from Egypt to Canaan."

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"Both prayers focus on bones and were therefore wholly appropriate for a reburial service."

Dr Buckle is on the committee for Richard III's planned reburial at Leicester Cathedral next year.

She added that Richard III attended two reburials while on the throne - his father Richard, Duke of York, and his ancestor Henry VI.

"He honoured a long tradition of kings reburying kings and nobles reburying nobles, and this suggests he would have liked to have been honoured in a similar way today," she said.

"I believe that I have put together a service which very closely resembles the way Richard would have reburied his father and, presumably, given the nature of his own undignified burial, reflects the sort of reburial he would have wanted for himself."

The service is said to require the bones to be sprinkled, censed, covered and blessed before reburial.

Old Vicarage needs your help this Christmas!

AN OXFORDSHIRE care home is appealing for volunteers to spend a festive afternoon with staff and residents on Monday, to get the site ready for Christmas.

The Old Vicarage, in Moulsham, is asking for local people to help put up decorations to get the home into the Christmas spirit, with the promise of music and mince pies during the afternoon.

Volunteers can hang baubles, make paper chains, drape tinsel and untangle lights, or anything to spread Christmas cheer at the home.

It is part of the Act Kind campaign from Friends of the Elderly, who operate the Moulsham home.

Each year around 450,000 people spend Christmas Day alone, and the charity is encouraging everyone to undertake an act of kindness over the festive season to help those facing Christmas alone.

As a result of the campaign, they hope to break down the boundaries that are creating loneliness and isolation amongst older people.

Anyone interested in becoming one of the volunteer 'Christmas Makers' at The Old Vicarage can visit www.actkind.org.uk or contact Anik on 020 7730 8263 for more information.

SOBELL CHRISTMAS APPEAL

Every year, Sobell House takes care of hundreds of people in Oxfordshire. We do this through our in-patient unit, day services, Sobell Community Nurses and Palliative Care Nurses. With increasing demands for our services, we need help from the local community to raise funds. Caroline's story explains why this is so important:

"In August 2011, my husband George started to complain of stomach ache and after a lot of investigation we received the devastating news that he had pancreatic cancer."

Sobell House enabled us to be together as a family. We were all made to feel completely at home. George was at peace, in a homely atmosphere with medical expertise on hand.

We had our hand held through the worst time of our lives by people who care, and not just because it is their job, they care from their heart and souls."

Fast broadband boost set for city businesses

BUSINESSES in Oxford are set to receive a funding boost to enable them to take advantage of ultra-fast broadband in the city, in a scheme announced by the city council.

Small and medium-sized businesses will be able to apply for a voucher enabling them to get funding, with money coming from central government.

It will be launched in Oxford in early 2014, and follows on from the Super Connected Cities announcement from earlier this year where the council was awarded £3.1m from the Department of Culture, Media and Sport.

Cllr Bob Price, leader of Oxford City Council, said: "The voucher scheme is designed to provide support for small and medium-sized businesses to set up an ultra-fast broadband connection that will develop their potential.

"The council's scheme will be open from early in the new year. It is aimed at businesses that can use ultra-fast connections to expand and grow their businesses across the UK, Europe and the rest of the world."

Communications minister Ed Vaizey said: "The broadband market is moving at an incredible pace.

"Today, businesses expect and demand faster and faster broadband to compete in the global race.

"Connection vouchers will be an important tool for cities in helping to address that demand, and government has now allocated up to £100m to provide a digital boost to super connected cities like Oxford."

The scheme will allow businesses to apply for grants of up to £3,000 each, which would be used to cover the costs of installing faster and better broadband.

It is part of the government's plan to deliver fast broadband, with funding coming from the £150m Super Connected Cities programme.

Businesses interested in registering for one of the vouchers should go to www.connectionvouchers.co.uk.

Forget Mrs Claus, it's Nanny Christmas!

AN OXFORDSHIRE plant nursery is hosting events for children running every evening between now and Christmas Eve to raise money for charity.

Bunkers Hill Nursery, near Kidlington, will be home to Nanny Christmas in her cosy log cabin each evening, where children can listen to a story while sitting in front of her glowing log fire.

Meanwhile, Rudolph's Reindeer Hunt lets children search for the hidden reindeer and discover clues and a secret word, where they can win a prize and certificate.

Nursery owner Andrew Leaning said: "My daughter Lucy has recently qualified as a Norland Nanny, having spent four years training.

"Therefore we thought it would be fun to have a 'Nanny Christmas' rather than a Santa's Grotto like everybody else.

"Children really like having a

Mayor's Column

Axel MacDonald

Mayor of Didcot

We will continue to see town improvements

December is a time for celebration, contemplation and taking stock of where we are and making plans for the next year. Various Christmas carol services will be run throughout the region to celebrate the birth of Jesus and families will be gathering to spend the upcoming holiday together. It is with sadness that not all family members may be there. The sad news of Terry Joslin's passing was widely reported in the local press. He was passionate about the world leading science in the area from the synchrotron at Diamond Light Source on the Harwell campus to nuclear fusion research at Culham. Not forgetting the ground breaking research into battery technology and medical products within the Harwell/ Milton Park/ Abingdon/Culham science sites. At the centre of this lies Didcot.

Didcot is an expanding town and there are great expectations of new sports, recreational and shopping facilities together with the expectation of a hotel. With its excellent rail link and location, it seems strange the town does not have a moderately sized hotel but the hope is this will be remedied by the Didcot Gateway development. It will be up to the town, district and county councillors to ensure the development of Didcot, as it transforms from its village past into a town of modest size, is sympathetic to the needs of its residents. There is the hope that 2014 will bring with it news Didcot residents are waiting to hear of phase two of the Orchard centre development, firm plans for the Didcot Gateway, new sports facilities without compromising existing facilities, such as the Didcot Wave, and suitable and sufficient improvements to our infrastructure to take account of the additional traffic as a result of the town's expansion. One prediction I make for 2014 is that the changes in Didcot will continue, the skyline will change as demolition of Didcot A power station progresses and with the grace and good sense of our councillors, we will continue to see improvements in the town. I wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

It's not worth risk - police

THAMES Valley Police's Christmas drink-drive campaign 'Is It Worth The Risk?' has seen a 25 per cent increase in the number of those arrested in the region compared to last year, it has been announced.

The figures are taken from the first nine days of December.

So far 21 people have been arrested in Oxfordshire, with a total of 84 in the Thames Valley.

Of those arrested, the oldest was a 75-year-old woman in Bicester, while the youngest was an 18-year-old woman in Henley.

The campaign is a joint initiative between Thames Valley and Hampshire police forces, and has been running since the start of the month.

Chief inspector Henry Parsons, of the forces' Joint Operations Unit, said: "Drinking and driving wrecks lives, most obviously the hundreds of victims and their loved ones who are killed each year.

"But it also changes the lives of the people who are selfish or stupid enough to drive when they are not fit to do so.

"If you choose to drink and drive, and it is a choice, you face a driving ban, up to £5,000 in fines and a criminal record."

I was amazed to see myself on TV!

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

CHRISTMAS is fast approaching and the festive adverts are commonplace on our television screens.

People often have their favourites and voice opinions on which advert is the best but for 11-year-old Max Webb from Headington there is only one winner.

Max, who attends Cheney School in Oxford, appears in KFC's festive advert called 'Unite This Xmas'.

He appears with four other children who have thrown a snowball that smashes a window, but find themselves forgiven because it is Christmas.

The TV advert is a tongue-in-cheek version of the traditionally sentimental Christmas adverts and features a ballad sung by various characters.

They all gather round the Christmas dinner table to tuck into buckets of KFC while they sing lyrics such as "Eleven months a year, you drive me mad, this year you don't seem so bad."

Max, who wants to be a movie star when he is older, had two auditions before getting the role.

He said: "When I found out I was happy and excited as well.

"I was amazed when I saw myself on TV and it was on the screen right in front of me. It made me really happy."

The advert took three days to film and Max added: "I enjoyed all the filming.

"It was fun and hard work at the same time, I got to meet lots of people, everyone was really nice.

"I had a really good time and I feel lucky to have been on TV."

Max's mum Sue said: "The children the KFC casting team put together were chosen so well, they were all very similar and it was like they had always known each other.

"We are still in touch with them now, which is really nice."

Concern over missing teen Sammy, 15

• Sammy McAllister

POLICE are currently appealing for the public's help to find a missing teenager.

Fifteen-year-old Sammy McAllister has been missing from Birmingham since November 18.

However, he is believed to be in the Oxford area as he has family and friends in the city.

He is described as 5ft 6ins with dark hair, has facial hair and is of a medium build.

Officers involved in the search are becoming increasingly concerned about the 15-year-old's health and welfare and would be grateful for any news that could help them locate him.

If you have any information about Sammy's whereabouts please contact the Thames Valley Police Enquiry Centre on 101.

Police would also like to add that Sammy is not in any trouble and officers would just like to be aware of his whereabouts and to know he is safe.

Men charged

TWO men have been charged with burglaries and fraud by false representation, following recent incidents in Adderbury and Bloxham. A 32-year-old from Adderbury and a 36-year-old from King's Sutton were arrested and charged on Friday.

'Positive result' for police after raids

• Officers force open the door at the Lidsey Road property

• Sgt Kat Hibbert with the drugs seized during Thursday's raid

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

TWO men have been arrested following drugs raids by police in Banbury last week, which saw the force seize a quantity of cannabis and cocaine.

On Thursday morning, police attended a property on Lidsey Road, Bretch Hill, and forced the door open.

Once inside, officers searched the property as well as two cars parked outside, leading to the arrest of a 42-year-old man on suspicion of possession with intent to supply after finding a "fairly large" amount of cannabis.

A second raid on Friday evening took place at an address on Bloxham Road, where a 27-year-old man was arrested on the same charge after officers found cannabis and cocaine.

Both have since been released on bail.

Sgt Kat Hibbert, who led the raids, commented: "We had a positive result. We found a quantity of drugs, and disrupted suspected drug dealers by acting upon information given to us.

"The Banbury neighbourhood team will continue to listen to our communities to find information and intelligence about drug dealing, and we will follow it up from there."

Scrap metal regulations

CHERWELL District Council have introduced scrap metal licenses across the area, under new legislation designed to reduce thefts.

On December 1, the Scrap Metal Dealers Act 2013 came into force across the UK, and requires all collectors and dealers to undergo checks by local authorities to verify their suitability.

Individuals and companies who deal in scrap metal will have to apply for a license through the council, costing £270 for mobile collectors or £455 for those operating from a site.

Cllr Tony Illott, lead member for public protection, said: "Scrap metal thefts are a growing problem across the UK, including Cherwell, and are expensive to both the victim and taxpayer who have to fund police investigations.

"This new law will help to make illegal scrap metal dealings harder to undertake and easier to trace.

"And for legitimate traders, it will provide proof and reassurance to customers that they have passed sufficient checks to be a licensed dealer."

Applicants must undergo a series of checks and if approved, a license will be granted that is valid for three years.

For more information about applying for a licence, go to www.cherwell.gov.uk or call 01295 227093.

Abingdon garage helps local RBL to raise £15k

AN Abingdon-based car dealership has done its bit to help raise funds for the local branch of the Royal British Legion.

Lodge Hill Garage on Oxford Road is easily recognisable for its spitfire on the roof.

And this year, it donated £50 for every car sold at the garage over the Remembrance weekend.

Chris Meacey, Poppy Appeal organiser for the Abingdon and district branch of the RBL, said: "The efforts of Lodge Hill has helped us exceed £15,000 in the area."

Lodge Hill manager, Nigel Murrin, presented a cheque to Mr Meacey at the garage last week.

Mr Murrin confirmed the garage would be donating again next year, but over the course of the whole week in the lead up to Remembrance weekend.

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD Carterton student Jodie Evans has been honoured as one of the country's top Literacy Heroes.

The 16-year-old was honoured at Clarence House last week at an event hosted by HRH The Duchess of Cornwall.

Jodie is a former Carterton Community College student and was involved in the reinstatement of the school library.

After finishing her GCSE exams she volunteered at her local library to support younger children in the Creepy House Summer Reading Challenge.

She was nominated by Rosemary Stables, her former English teacher.

The 16-year-old was one of 10 Literacy Heroes chosen as part of a campaign run by the National Literacy Trust to celebrate its 20th anniversary.

Ms Stables feels Jodie fully deserves the award.

"She believes that a library is 'the centre of the school' and that reading matters because it 'takes you to different places'."

"I genuinely believe that without Jodie's support our library would not have been the same and we have missed her very much since she left."

By Jack Johnson

jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Jodie was chosen from hundreds of public nominations by a panel of celebrity judges.

The panel included authors Joanna Trollope, Cressida Cowell and Dorothy Koomson, entrepreneur Levi Roots, actor, comedian and writer Miles Jupp, and columnist Lucy Mangan.

Authors Lauren Child, Charlie Higson, Anthony Horowitz and Axel Sheffler all attended the event.

When first starting at the community college, Jodie lacked confidence in English due to her dyslexia.

Throughout her time at the school Jodie built up her confidence through determination and hard work.

Her confidence was enhanced by weekly riding sessions with a 'Riding for the Disabled' group.

She later became an active volunteer in the restoration of the school library.

The National Literacy Trust is a national charity dedicated to raising literacy levels in the UK's poorest communities.

Let's keep harping on!

CLASSICAL music quartet 4 Girls 4 Harps come to Didcot Cornerstone next Thursday, as part of their Christmas tour following the release of their latest album earlier this month.

Made up of Harriet Adie, Eleanor Turner, Elizabeth Scolah and Keziah Thomas, the group will be playing music from the new album '4 Girls 4 Harps At Christmas' among their setlist.

"We've been together since 2000, so a really long time now, with a slightly different membership over the years," said founding member Harriet.

"Myself and Eleanor met aged 14 and we were both students at the Royal College of Music Junior Department, and we started doing harp music there.

"Keziah joined in 2001, and Elizabeth joined in January this year, so she's the newest member by quite a long way, but has so far slotted in really well."

The new album comes as the girls have wanted to record a Christmas album for a number of years, particularly as they believe the harp is one of the

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

instruments most associated with the festive period.

They have collaborated with a number of composers for the album, including soprano Helen Winter, who features on three carols.

All four girls are recognised as some of the best harp players in Europe, and Harriet in particular has been playing since she was a child.

She said: "It's one of those things, because I played from such an early age, I don't actually remember what made me want to take it up."

"I think it was because I used to listen to a lot of ballet music as a child, as there's lots of harp in that music."

"It was just hearing the sound of the harp in that way that made me want to play it as an instrument."

Next week's show starts at 7.30pm, and tickets cost £14.50. For booking details and more information, go to www.cornerstone-arts.org or phone 01235 515144.

HIDDEN Spire, a collaboration between professional artists and homeless people to produce a unique theatre performance, comes to The Old Fire Station from today.

Since September, homeless people from charity Crisis, who share a building with The Old Fire Station, have been attending workshops and classes on acting, writing and set design, as part of the special performance.

The idea for Hidden Spire came from Jeremy Spafford, who is director of arts at The Old Fire Station.

He said: "We've got 10 professional artists of different disciplines who have been working over the last three months with homeless people who come into the Crisis Centre.

"The Crisis Skylight members have devised this show, which contains music, poetry, movement and dialogue, and has a very clear narrative and structure.

"The story is based in a clock shop, with the idea that it's where people go to get their clocks and watches mended, although of course nobody gets

By Adam Flinn

adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

them mended anymore, they just buy new ones.

"So it's an exploration of how you deal with luck, how you deal with chance, and how you deal with risk."

The project began last year, and is the biggest collaboration between the two organisations since The Old Fire Station reopened in 2011.

Jeremy added: "You have this intriguing mix of the honesty and integrity of amateur performers who bring an enormous amount with them to the stage, and professionals who bring all the training and technique you'd expect.

"We're very proud of it - we wouldn't be promoting it and charging for tickets if we didn't think it was a seriously good night out.

"I think that people will also be intrigued by the process that is behind the show as well as the show itself."

Hidden Spire is running from today until Saturday, and tickets cost £12.

TWHAS WILL BE BY LIZ WOOLLEY
Children and war: Children's experiences of WW2 in Oxfordshire'. This talk looks at how the lives of Oxfordshire children - both those born in the county and those evacuated here - were affected by World War II. Oxfordshire escaped major bombing during World War II but the county's inhabitants were, none-the-less, heavily affected by the War. Preparations for possible attack and invasion altered the familiar landscape and everyday life in towns and villages was disrupted. Thousands of evacuees found refuge here and became part of residents' homes and schools. Visitors (£3) are most welcome.

Frozen is just so cool!

LOOSELY based on The Snow Queen by Hans Christian Andersen, Frozen proves that Disney's animated heroines have unquestionably come of age.

Long gone are the rose-tinted days when princesses waited patiently for Prince Charming to sweep them off their feet or save them from some grim fate.

Now, the spunky, independent and self-assured heroines are just as smart and resourceful as their male contemporaries, and they don't need the love of a man to affirm their self-worth.

Frozen is a terrific fairytale adventure that melds old-fashioned values with state-of-the-art visuals and a rousing musical score with infectious songs by husband-and-wife team Robert Lopez and Kristen Anderson-Lopez.

By Damon Smith

Every beautifully coloured and crafted frame is crammed with wit and joy, drawing in audiences of all ages to the story of two sisters battling against both the elements and their fears to claim their rightful place on the throne.

Directors Jennifer Lee and Chris Buck don't let the pace flag and the 108 minutes pass in a blur of laughter, tears and frost-bitten action sequences, that look especially stunning in 3D with all of the computer-generated snowflakes fluttering just in front of your face.

You won't need to wrap up warm though because the story casts an irresistible warm glow to thaw even the most cynical and jaded heart.

As children, Anna (voiced by Kristen Bell) and Elsa (Idina Menzel) love to play together, taking full advantage of Elsa's ability to create ice and snow from her fingertips. When accident late one night almost ends in disaster, the King (Maurice LaMarche) agrees to wipe Anna's memory so she forgets about her sibling's hidden talents. At the same time, Elsa retires from public gaze, fearful that she will hurt someone else with her powers.

When the King and Queen are subsequently lost at sea, Elsa reluctantly emerges to claim the throne. Unfortunately, on her coronation day, her gloves come off and the locals witness her powers, branding her a witch.

She flees into the snowy mountains to live alone in a castle of ice. Anna gives chase, leaving the kingdom in the hands of her trusted sweetheart Prince Hans (Santino Fontana). As she ascends towards Elsa's hideaway, Anna meets hunky ice trader Kristoff (Jonathan Groff), his loyal reindeer Sven and a blissfully naive talking snowman called Olaf (Josh Gad).

Frozen is one of the best animated features to canter out of the Disney stable in years. Warm-hearted, uplifting and constantly surprising, it's a timeless fable that will appeal to both boys and girls thanks to uproarious comic relief from Olaf.

As an added treat, Frozen is preceded by a black and white Mickey Mouse short, Get A Horse, that seems to hark from a bygone era but has a wicked sting in the tail.

WIN The Ultimate Musicals Experience!

IN recent years Britain has enjoyed a boom in Musicals and - according to figures published earlier this year by The Society of London Theatre - this is set to continue for the next decade.

The Ultimate Musicals Experience comes at a perfect time and, at 3CDs and a price of around £9-10, the set represents incredible family entertainment and value for money.

The album features 60 of the best-loved and most memorable songs, from legendary productions such as The Phantom Of The Opera, Cats and Les Misérables, right through to the latest West End shows including Charlie And The Chocolate

Closing date
Friday, December 27

Factory, Dirty Dancing and The Commitments. All the biggest names in theatre are here including Michael Ball, Katherine Jenkins, Alfie Boe, Elaine Paige, Michael Crawford, Cliff Richard, Lee Mead, Liza Minnelli, Sarah Brightman, John Barrowman, Julie Covington and many more.

The Ultimate Musicals Experience will be advertised on TV in the run up to Xmas and will be available on CD and download.

Last year West End ticket sales were up for the ninth consecutive year (despite The Olympics) and this year looks to be just as good with new hit productions including Charlie and The Chocolate Factory and The Commitments. With Xmas in sight, The Ultimate Musicals Experience can only add to the feel good factor...

We have three copies of this great triple CD to give away and all you have to do is answer this simple question

Q: FROM WHICH MUSICAL DOES THE SONG ANY DREAM WILL DO COME?

Master baker Paul Hollywood reignites our appetite for traditional foods Humble pie gets the Hollywood touch

"GOOD bake". "Nice crumb". "It's over-proved". "The gluten hasn't developed".

Four years ago, only expert bakers would have understood these terms. Now, thanks to Paul Hollywood and his Great British Bake Off co-judge Mary Berry, they've become familiar phrases in millions of home up and down the UK.

And it's not just Bake Off terminology that's been on the rise - the show has led to a staggering revival in home baking too.

"I can't go a day without someone coming up to me and showing me a photo on their phone of their latest loaf or cake," says Hollywood, 47. "I love it."

There's no respite on Twitter either, where celebrities including Fearne Cotton and Sarah Millican have taken to sending the famous baker pictures of their bakes, or asking for tips.

By Andy Welch

The fourth series of Bake Off ended recently with 31-year-old Frances Quinn's surprise victory, and once again supermarkets reported increased sales of baking ingredients and cake-making tools along the way.

"Where's my share?" jokes Hollywood. "I haven't got any money out of it."

That, of course, isn't quite true. The chef, who was born in Cheshire and is taking a live baking show on a tour of the UK next April, is now synonymous with baking. His Bread series and book were huge hits earlier this year and he's never been more in demand. Just two weeks after filming finished for Bake Off, he went straight to work on his latest offering, Pies & Puds. There's a book out now and a TV series will follow.

"It's hard fitting it all in," he says. "There's always something, but it's good to have loads going on, especially when it's all so much fun to work on."

"There are thousands of recipes out there, and it's just about being able to pick the right ones, harness the right ideas, and put them in a great package for people to try themselves."

There's no shortage of mouth-watering recipes in Pies & Puds. In the same way Bread introduced novices to basic techniques and walked them through more advanced methods, Pies & Puds includes basics like sausage rolls and quickly moves on to slightly more challenging tasks.

These include pasties, bread and butter pudding made with croissants and cherries, and various types of pastry.

The book is, as Hollywood says, like a cookery course, and one of his favourite recipes is his take on a classic. "I do a beef and ale pie, but use water buffalo instead of regular beef, and I must say the pie is absolutely gorgeous."

"Throughout the book I've twisted things, added new flavours, modernised classics and come up with a load of recipes that are beautiful to eat. It's about comfort food, really, and I'm celebrating what Britain's good at - pies, puddings and pastries."

"The main thing about everything I do is that I just love teaching. The idea that people are learning while watching and being inspired to try things is absolutely brilliant."

Your life
in the stars

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 - December 21)

Just when you least expect it, a bit of romance pops along. Taken by surprise you could give the wrong response. Smile and give yourself time to think. A relative may be pushing you to make a decision concerning the forthcoming holiday. Be flexible, but you do not have to go along with it to the word. Swapping days could be the ideal answer.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 20)

A burst of enterprising spirit sees you coming up with a pretty good idea. It may not be the right time or place but file it for future use.

Placing yourself at someone's disposal gives a real insight into their character. Help them to go in the right direction by being open and honest. If they need a real friend they will find it in you. They do, however, have to believe that.

AQUARIUS (January 21 - February 19)

It does seem that, this week, everyone wants a slice of you. With plenty of energy at your disposal that shouldn't be too much of a problem. Involving a partner when you are going away from home can be a good idea. Shopping for holiday bargains? Running up to the weekend there are ample opportunities to find what you want.

However, nice surprises are likely, perhaps even a proposal.

PISCES (February 20 - March 20)

Although you are putting on a show of confidence and bravado, you may feel quite the opposite. It is quite natural to feel sensitive about certain personal things.

Confiding in a sympathetic relative could be the answer. An invitation for the weekend may not be exactly what you had in mind. However, nice surprises are likely, perhaps even a proposal.

ARIES (March 21 - April 20)

An increase in your optimism this week is due to a long-awaited event. Finances should be looking up and could be tied with travel.

Relatives may come up with an unmissable invitation. If you are unsure who should share this time with you, consider your companion in a long-term way. Will spending time with your family and this person help to progress the relationship, and do you want it to?

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21)

There is every reason for optimism this week. Some good news for you or someone close brightens the outlook. Chance meetings can open your mind, so why not go along to some activities that do not normally appeal? Being in new places can also mean meeting someone who could influence your life for the better. Finances show improvement but still need careful handling.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

Are you finding you have a lot of support from others? Repay the compliment by helping them in return. Indeed, group activities this week make a big difference to both your mood and finances. Travel can be tricky at times, causing delays and mix-ups. Plan carefully and keep vehicles in good condition. An emotional time at the weekend should be anticipated and considered.

and then let it go. Regret is not for you, but the future is.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)

A rewarding beginning to the week sees appreciation coming your way. Every now and again you need encouragement such as this.

Despite working life going better, romance is still not so perfect. It is hard to have patience but, as long as you have made your intentions and hopes clear, results will arrive. Forget any worries and spend time with younger people at the weekend.

LEO (July 24 - August 23)

It is never too soon to start planning for something that you want to do in the New Year. More preparation can mean less money and time spent on it later. Although you have made something clear to a partner, the response seems slow in coming. Perhaps you need to repeat your request to bring home the point. If someone is being awkward, a word in the right place could move them along.

VIRGO (August 24 - September 23)

In a week full of friends and sentimentality, bring up something that has long puzzled you. This is a time to solve mysteries and throw light onto the past. Looking into the family history can be a real shocker, so keep your sense of humour! Not very happy about something? Get it out in the open and then let it go. Regret is not for you, but the future is.

and then let it go. Regret is not for you, but the future is.

LIBRA (September 24 - October 23)

A comment made around the time of your birthday seems to be sticking in your mind. Do you really understand it? Having a chat about it can be very cathartic. A partner comes up with an idea that you consider to be silly. Some of it may be, but are you sure that it has no merit? When you are being suspicious, your mind closes. Never a good state of affairs!

SCORPIO (October 24 - November 22)

Do you have a question to ask? A favour, perhaps? Well, this is the week to do it. Waiting gives you less of a chance of a good answer. Of course, we also know that you have to let people know what it is that you want, don't we? Perhaps communications with someone have been a bit complicated. Now is the ideal time to take a practical approach and just ask!

Perfect family workhorse

VOLVO made quite an impression when it launched the XC60.

Possessing considerably sharper looks than its bigger XC90 brother, this compact SUV has been designed primarily for on-road, rather than off-road use. The 2013 model has a more dynamic look featuring LED rear lights and upmarket feel in the cabin, although the mechanicals have remained unchanged.

Once inside you're greeted to a stylish, modern and spacious cabin, showcased by Volvo's visually appealing floating centre console and Sensus infotainment system. Some of the sat-nav directions lacked clarity and the input method isn't as intuitive as touch-screen alternatives. What does impress is the car's PremiumSound audio system. On the practicality front the XC60 scores well, with a generous 495 litre boot capacity. Rear accommodation is commodious, too,

REVIEW: VOLVO XC60

By Philip Shoulder

with only very tall passengers likely to be short on headroom.

The XC60 has a commanding and comfortable driving position and you feel very safe and secure once aboard. There are lots of electronic safety systems, from simple seatbelt reminders to other more advanced warning intervention alerts, including Lane Assist, Bliss (Blind Spot Warning System). New optional safety equipment includes Road Sign Information, Active High Beam and Tunnel Detection.

XC60 is offered with a selection of diesel engines, which all emit 139g/km of CO₂, regardless of power output.

Fitted with the 163 bhp 2.0 litre 5-cylinder diesel engine affords the Swedish compact SUV with adequately strong performance. The motor's relaxed and smooth power delivery makes for easy cruising. It also has an interesting offbeat sound – particularly when extended, but can become a bit rattly at lower speeds.

Without doubt, the XC60's biggest overall strength is the way it cossets its occupants. From the big comfy leather seats to the impressive suppression of wind, road and suspension noise. Which is perhaps just as well, because the slightly numb steering and the car's overall heft, prevents it from offering much engagement for the keener driver, although never feeling unwieldy. The adaptive suspension also has the ability to firm-up the tension of the dampers, but it does so at the expense of ride comfort.

Verdict:

The XC60's breadth of talents has always made it the perfect family workhorse and long distance cruiser. 2013 revisions have now freshened up the appeal of Volvo's compact SUV.

WINTER SERVICE & CHECK

Snow, fog, ice and rain are just a few of the dangers Winter can spring upon the motorist and to avoid getting caught out there is essential preparation to be done.

Most road safety organisations advise having your car serviced before Winter. Julians are able to help you with this and are offering a tailored interim Winter service including an oil and filter change, check wiper blades, tyres, lights, coolant and battery condition, in other words all the Winter maintenance essentials.

Oil & Filter change

The life of your engine depends on the oil you put in it. The engine oil minimises friction of the moving metal parts and helps dissipate the heat generated. It is essential to change your oil on a regular basis. We will use quality semi synthetic oil.

Check wiper blades

According to the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents, during Winter 'the biggest single danger is being unable to see properly' so visibility is key. Worn or split wiper blades may cause them to leave smears and greasy marks on the windscreen and affect visibility, so to avoid these hazards we will replace your front wiper blades where applicable.

Check battery condition

During the Winter flat batteries are consistently the number one reason for breakdown, so during our Winter Service, we check it out, clean the terminals and top up the fluids to ensure it is ready for the perils of Winter.

Check the condition & pressures of tyres

The tread depth, tyre condition and pressure of your tyres are essential items that should be checked as is vitally important that your tyres grip the road properly to reduce the risk of skidding and aquaplaning in Wintery conditions. Julians fully endorse the guidelines set by the Tyre Industry Council, which state that tyres should be considered for changing when the tread depth remaining reaches approximately 3mm, at which depth they are 78% worn.

Check operation & condition of lights

Lights should be checked to ensure they are working properly. It is important to make sure lights are free from dirt; this includes your headlights, fog lights and indicators, so we will thoroughly check the operation and condition of your lights to ensure they are working efficiently

£89.00

Check & top up all under bonnet fluid levels

We check all under bonnet fluids levels.
Check and top up brake, clutch and washer fluid
Check antifreeze content and advise*

Visual Safety Check

As part of our Duty of Care to you, we will carry out a visual safety check of your vehicle, we will inform you of the condition of your vehicle and what remedial work, if any, need to be done and on what timescale.

Careful driving and a well prepared vehicle should make Winter a safer experience for you and your family.

* Antifreeze extra if required

Are you prepared for winter?

Williams puts Dragons to sword as U's progress

Nomads down Highworth

OXFORD City Nomads' won their first match in three on Saturday, as they beat Highworth Town 4-1 in the Hellenic Premier Division.

Nomads had only won one of their previous eight games before this weekend's match, and will next play league leaders Ardley United on Saturday.

Thame United put three past basement side at home to Abingdon Town, in a comfortable 3-0 victory for the hosts.

Town are still waiting for their first win of the season, with their five points all coming from draws in their 23 games played so far, and are back in action on Saturday as they welcome Reading Town.

Thame remain seventh with 42 points, one spot and four points ahead of Nomads, and play Freeland in the Oxfordshire Senior Cup on Saturday.

Elsewhere, Kidlington were knocked out in the third round of the FA Vase, after a narrow 3-2 loss at home to Bodmin Town.

Kidlington were Oxfordshire's last representatives in the competition for this year, but are back in action with an away trip to Bletchington in the county cup.

Quins back to winning ways

OXFORD Harlequins got back to winning ways on Saturday, with a dominant 62-3 home victory against Marlow.

The home side scored 10 tries on their way to victory, and stay seven points ahead of Windsor in the South West 1 East standings.

Grove RFC also got their campaign back on track with their first win in six games, as they comfortably beat Salisbury away 57-8.

They are now eighth in the standings with 30 points, 26 behind leaders Harlequins, after 13 games so far this season.

Elsewhere, Henley Hawks were beaten for the first time in three weeks, as they suffered a 32-21 home defeat to Fylde.

Henley have had a mixed season in the SSE National League 1 so far, and currently occupy ninth place in the table with 33 points.

Chinnor were also beaten at the weekend when they travelled to face Taunton Titans, losing 20-15.

It means they have dropped a position to 10th in the SSE National League 2 South standings, with seven wins and seven losses so far this season.

GOALS from James Constable and Ryan Williams booked Oxford United's place in the third round of the FA Cup as they saw off Conference side Wrexham 2-1 on Monday evening.

United's reward is a third round tie at Championship strugglers Charlton Athletic which will be played over the weekend of January 4 and 5.

Chris Wilder's side have already played at The Valley this season where they suffered a 4-0 defeat in the first round of the Capital One Cup on August 6.

However, a lot has changed since the sides met three months ago as United sit top of League Two and The Addicks are struggling in 21st in the Championship.

United's first round replay win over Gateshead last Thursday and second round triumph over the Dragons earlier this week further highlighted the team spirit at the club.

Despite the speculation surrounding Wilder and the vacant manager's job at Portsmouth along with the absence of the injured Michael Raynes and Johnny Mullins, United battled to a 1-0 victory in arctic conditions against the Heed.

Full-backs Matt Bevens and David Lynn made their debuts while David Hunt and Tom Newey moved into the centre of defence.

A defensive and determined performance saw them nick a 1-0 win in extra-time as Deane Smalley netted a 116th minute penalty for his seventh goal of the season.

At Wrexham it was a far more convincing performance.

There was no doubt over Wilder's future as former Crawley Town boss Richie Barker had been confirmed as the new Pompey manager earlier in the day while Danny Rose and Dave Kitson started the game despite being forced off against Gateshead through injury.

Mullins returned to the starting line-up with Bevens keeping his place at right-back but it was the Conference side that opened the scoring.

Dean Keates was allowed time to pick out Joe Clarke on the edge of the box and the Wrexham midfielder volleyed the Dragons ahead on 29 minutes.

Wrexham should have doubled their lead just after half-time but Ryan Clarke made an outstanding save to deny Johnny Hunt.

However, United's equaliser came on 54 minutes as Kitson found Constable in space on the edge of the area and the striker fired a brilliant shot into the bottom corner.

United were ahead just two minutes later as Wrexham allowed Scott Davies' long throw to bounce in the box and Williams snuck in to head past Andy Coughlin.

It was relatively comfortable from then on for Oxford but Clarke was forced into a brilliant save to deny Rob Ogleby in the last minute.

Wilder's men are back in league action this weekend as they welcome ninth-placed Dagenham & Redbridge to the Kassam Stadium.

Bright Stars

OXFORD City Stars racked up the points on Saturday, as they surged to an 11-5 win against Slough Jets in the league cup.

Stars have won their three games in the cup so far this season, which has also included two victories against Swindon Wildcats 2.

Their next cup game is away to the Bristol Pitbulls on December 28, and return to league action against the Invicta Mustangs on Saturday.

Hawks draw

OXFORD Hawks once again missed out on victory in the Southern Premier Division 1 hockey league on Saturday, as they could only draw at home to London Wayfarers.

Wayfarers took the lead with the only goal in the first half, before Charlie Ellison and Jack Biggs put Hawks into the lead before the visitors pinched an equaliser in the final minute of the game.

Hawks are seventh in the table after 10 games with 14 points, one behind local rivals Oxford University.

Grudge match

OXFORD University rugby club are preparing for the 132nd varsity match against Cambridge University this afternoon, being played at Twickenham.

Oxford have won the last three varsity matches, although they trail 61-56 overall with 14 draws since the competition first started in 1872.

Club captain John Carter will also make history by being the first person for either team to lead his club for the third time. The match kicks off at 2pm.

Scott is the hero as City secure draw

MARK Scott was the hero for Oxford City on Tuesday evening as he saved two penalties in a 1-1 draw at home to Workington.

City are now unbeaten in three games in the Skril North and are up to 16th in the table.

The draw followed back-to-back wins over Vauxhall Motors and Worcester City, helping Mike Ford's men to their best run of form this season.

On Tuesday, Workington started the better and were awarded a penalty after Josef Jackson was fouled by Adam Learoyd but Scott denied the striker.

On 50 minutes City took the lead through Learoyd but Benjamin McKenna equalised shortly afterwards.

Workington went in search of a winner and were awarded a penalty but Scott was again the hero, this time saving from Ross Wilson.

Big forward O'Keeffe signs for Oxford

OXFORD Rugby League will announce the signing of 22-year-old back rower Graham O'Keeffe this morning, as they continue their recruitment drive.

O'Keeffe also plays as a centre, and was previously with Limerick Treaty Titans in Ireland who recently secured their seventh league title.

He has also represented Ireland A in this year's amateur four nations campaign, as well as playing for Ireland Students in the 2013 Student Rugby League World Cup.

It was in this tournament that O'Keeffe scored a hat-trick, which helped them finish in seventh spot.

He said: "I am very excited to be presented with this opportunity and am looking forward to working with such an experienced coach in Tony Benson and all his backroom staff."

"I hope to bring an enthusiastic attitude and a willingness to learn off the more experienced players, and a will to win."

"I am aiming to play as many games as I can for the club and develop my game to its full potential."

Coach Tony Benson added: "He's a big forward, a lot like (fellow Oxford Rugby League player) JJ Laird, being quite quick and with a bit of skill about him as well."

I'VE GOT LOTS TO CONSIDER

Coach pleased as Welsh bounce back with resounding victory

JUSTIN Burnell was given plenty of food for thought by his side's 73-10 British & Irish Cup win over Edinburgh Academical at Old Deer Park.

Making 15 changes from the side which suffered Welsh's first Championship defeat of the season at Bedford Blues the previous weekend, the Exiles ran in 10 tries to register their first win in Pool 2, after losses to London Scottish and Pontypridd.

Welsh's tries came from debutant Will Carrick-Smith (2), Richard Thorpe (2), Alan Awcock, Dante Mama, James Lewis, Joe Ajuwa, Ben West and Mike Denbee, with fly half Will Robinson contributing 23 points in an exemplary goal-kicking display.

"Those boys weren't out there to make up the numbers - they were out there to prove that they want to play against London Scottish [on December 21 in the Championship], and some of them certainly did that," said Burnell.

"Edinburgh worked hard and they disrupted us at times, but you had boys starting for Welsh today who really wanted to prove how good they are."

Welsh head to Raeburn Place next Saturday for the return game with Edinburgh.

"You look at young Will Robinson, he hasn't had a great deal of opportunities, perhaps sitting a little bit behind Gordon [Ross] who's been playing well, but he was fantastic today.

"Ben West, who joined us from Cinderford, has improved massively from where he was in August.

"What came out of the Bedford game was a lot of tired bodies. We'd had six league games on the bounce and it does tell, but today proved that we have got strength in depth."

Robinson added: "I was pretty relieved; I needed a performance like that, but credit to the team and the work rate of the forwards.

"Some of the boys, myself included, have had to wait since the Ealing game or the last B&I Cup game for that chance. The boys were really enthusiastic in the week and trained really hard, and it showed.

"Hopefully keep playing well and keep getting picked, that's how I see it and hopefully that's how the coaches see it."

For Robinson, victory on Saturday was also important for Welsh to bounce back from the defeat at Bedford Blues - the Exiles' first Championship loss of the season.

"Really pleased for the team and how we bounced back from last week. We were all pretty gutted," he said.
